

Central Jersey Partners WIOA Regional Plan

2023-2024

Vision, Goals, Themes

Executive Summary

The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), requires Local Workforce Development Boards (LWDB)s and chief elected officials (CEO)s within each of New Jersey's three WIOA workforce planning regions to participate in a regional planning process resulting in a comprehensive four-year plan which shall be modified every two years. This plan incorporates input and coordination from each of the local areas within the workforce planning region. This Regional Plans complies with the requirements outlined in WIOA and aligns with and supports the strategies described in the New Jersey Combined WIOA State Plan (State Plan). This regional plan will be effective through 2026, modified after two years, in accordance with WIOA (Sec.108) and Title 20 CFR 679.500.

The Central Jersey Partners Regional Plan consists of the following:

- An overview of the region, including a list of local areas and counties that comprise the region.
- The collection and analysis of regional labor market data (in conjunction with the State) including existing and emerging in-demand industry sectors, information on demographics and target populations, and labor market trends.
- Establishment of strategic priorities for Career Seekers and Business partners
- The establishment of regional service strategies, including use of cooperative service delivery agreements.
- The description of Local WDB Structure & Functions including procurement of Operator & Career Services, Oversight & Monitoring, Performance Measures & Accountability, and Training & Development
- The development and implementation of sector initiatives for in-demand industry sectors or occupations for the planning region.
- The establishment of administrative cost arrangements, including the pooling of funds for administrative costs, as appropriate.
- The coordination of transportation and other supportive services as appropriate, for the region.
- The coordination of services with regional economic development services and providers.
- The establishment of an agreement concerning how the planning region will collectively negotiate and reach agreement with the Governor on local levels of performance for, and report on, the performance accountability measures described in WIOA sec. 116(c) for local areas or the planning region; and
- The establishment of a process to review and modify the plan every two years.
- The development of an Annual Regional Planning Calendar that establishes a structured approach to regional coordination, strategic planning, sharing of best practices, and program execution.

This Regional Plan demonstrates the workforce and human resources needs for the region's future and establishes a strategic framework about how we use our system and resources to meet those needs. This plan shows where regional workforce development efforts should be focused and highlights the jobs and occupations that are likely to play a key role in the success of the region's major industries and employers. This information is critical to educators, communities, and businesses because it illustrates where strategic growth is needed and where to expect modifications to arise based on shifting economic demands. Collective efforts must anticipate, plan for, and address the availability and accessibility to the skills and knowledge necessary for tomorrow's job seekers are prepared for

This plan will demonstrate our region's strategic blueprint for achieving two primary objectives.

1. To ensure all career seeking residents have the education and training necessary to access high-quality employment.
2. To ensure businesses and employers that are offering high-quality employment in the Central New Jersey Region can quickly and efficiently fill their talent needs.

This plan has been developed in cooperation with local community stakeholders including elected officials, area employers, education and training partners, community-based organizations, and individuals who are the recipients of services provided by the four local workforce development boards that are in the Central New Jersey WDB Planning Region.

Central Jersey Partners is committed to delivering programs and services through a regional approach, wherever appropriate and feasible. This includes services for job seekers, businesses, priority populations, and all constituents served in our respective local areas.

Regional Overview

The Central New Jersey Workforce Development Board Planning Region (Central Jersey Partners) is made up of four counties, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, and Ocean. The region spans across the state from coastal communities on the state's east coast, to the west, boarding the state of Pennsylvania.

According to the 2020 US Census, the population in the region is 2,430,500 residents. The regional population grew over the last five years by 23,000 (1.2%) and with a projected increase of 18,440 over the next five years (0.8%). There are 1,198,953 jobs in the region, with an anticipated growth of another 35,000 jobs by 2027. As the number of jobs increased, the labor force participation rate decreased from 63.9% to 63.8% between 2016 and 2021. Concerning educational attainment, 25.1% of the selected regions' residents possess a bachelor's degree (4.8% above the national average), and 7.0% hold an associate degree (1.7% below the national average). The ratio of unemployment by gender shows that 20,822 (50.79%) women were unemployed, while 20,174 (49.21%) men were out of work during the same time.

Integration of One Stop Partners and Services

New Jersey Department of Labor & Workforce Development issued Workforce Innovation Notice 13-16(A) (WIN) on December 15, 2016, that provides guidance related to the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) provisions regarding the required one-stop partners, including their roles and responsibilities within the one-stop system. This guidance includes the list of career services that the one-stop system partners are required to provide.

Central Jersey Partners uses this WIN as the basis for the organization of the One Stop systems in each of its local areas. Each LWDB includes each required partner in their One Stop System as delineated by WIOA. However, additional non-mandated partners may vary, due to the unique needs of each LWDB. Those differences will be demonstrated in each LWDB's Local Plan.

Each One-Stop Partner has specific duties and functions that are consistent among the workforce boards in our region:

The Required One-Stop Partners must:

- 1) Provide access to its programs or activities through the one-stop delivery system, in addition to any other appropriate locations.
- 2) Use a portion of funds made available to the partner's program, to the extent consistent with the Federal law authorizing the partner's program and with Federal cost principles in 2 CFR parts 200 and 3474 (requiring, among other things, that costs are allowable, reasonable, necessary, and allocable), to:
 - a. Provide applicable career services; and
 - b. Work collaboratively with the State and Local Boards to establish and maintain the one-stop delivery system. This includes jointly funding the one-stop infrastructure through partner contributions that are based upon: (i) A reasonable cost allocation methodology by which infrastructure costs are charged to each partner in proportion to the relative benefits; (ii) Federal cost principles; and (iii) Any local administrative cost requirements in the Federal law authorizing the partner's program. (This is further described in 20 CFR 361.700).
- 3) Enter into an MOU with the Local Board relating to the operation of the one-stop system that meets the requirements of 20 CFR 361.500(b);
- 4) Participate in the operation of the one-stop system consistent with the terms of the MOU, requirements of authorizing laws, the Federal cost principles, and all other applicable legal requirements; and

- 5) Provide representation of the State and Local Workforce Development Boards as required and participate in Board committees as needed. (20 CFR 361.420)

Each LWDB in the region is in the process of updating their respective One-Stop Partner Memoranda of Understanding and Infrastructure Funding Agreements. The revised MOUs and IFAs will be in place by January 1, 2024, as requested by the NJDOLWD.

Customization of Services for Employers and Jobseekers

Central Jersey Partners is building a service delivery strategy for employers and job seekers that is being utilized in each of our local areas.

First a range of services will be provided to job seekers, that is designed to meet their unique needs related to skill attainment and job placement:

- Assessment
- Plan Development
- Individualized Career Services
- Training Services
- Supportive Services
- Follow-Up Services

This strategy enables our American Job Centers to provide customized services, while encouraging job seekers to remain engaged with the local system beyond credential attainment and job placement. We view this continuum of service model as an innovative service delivery approach that keeps customers engaged, both short and long term.

The strategies listed above not only provide job seekers with accessible services, but they enhance the services available to employers. A consistent regional approach to serving job seekers must be built upon a commitment to better business services. This includes addressing the current and future training needs of employers through various engagement strategies including training, work-based learning opportunities, outreach, and support.

The region's approach to collecting and analyzing Labor Market Information further enhances our partnerships with the business community. We are cognizant that the workforce and economic conditions change constantly. Our comprehensive approach enables our local areas to pivot when necessary.

Strengthening Local Governance

Central Jersey Partners is committed to continuing its work in building workforce systems that are locally driven. This is being accomplished in various ways:

- Revised procurement policies that encourage more competition in local areas for the provision of key One-Stop components including the One-Stop Operation, Career Services, and Youth programs.
- Empower LWDBs to lead Local Governance through oversight and monitoring of the One-Stop System. This includes certification of the American Job Centers and monitoring procured vendors. The LWDBs will provide Technical Assistance to these entities when appropriate.

- Establishing and implementing policies according to Federal and State guidelines, while updating existing policies that may need to be revised.

CJP abide by the local governance policies established by NJ DOLWD as indicated in WIN WD-PY-21-6. The WIN offers an overview of the various entities that contribute to governance and operations in New Jersey’s Local Workforce Development Areas (LWDAs) and the nature of the relationships, roles, and responsibilities that must be developed in each LWDA. This policy provides specific details related to the roles and responsibilities of:

- Chief Elected Officials (CEOs)
- Local Workforce Development Boards (LWDBs)
- Fiscal Agents
- Designated and Hired Staff of LWDBs
- Committees of LWDBs
- One Stop Operators
- One Stop Career Service providers, including youth service providers.

These entities all play an important role in the development and maintenance of the local workforce system and, collectively, must support the full functions expected of LWDBs and local American Job Centers operating in each LWDA.

This regional plan will be reviewed on a regular basis and updated accordingly. Central Jersey Partners views this plan as the main catalyst for setting goals and objectives, that will foster an agile workforce system that effectively serves job seekers and businesses alike.

Vision: To ensure compliance and service excellence through a rigorous collaboration between our region’s strategic and operational partners.

Goals:

- To establish and meet regional performance measures (for both job seekers and businesses)
- To convene regional meetings of our WDB’s, WDB Committees, and Business Teams (according to our regional calendar)
- To launch a continuous improvement initiative by conducting regional surveys and focus groups with all workforce system stakeholders: job seekers, businesses, partners, and staff.
- Share resources where appropriate to enhance service delivery and increase efficiency through a potential reduction in administration costs.

Section 1 – Regional and Local Workforce Strategies

Section 1:A – Analysis of Labor Market Information

Please provide a description of your regional labor market and share specific labor market information (LMI) data from your region.

While the Central Jersey Partners are deeply invested in all segments of the workforce and will continue to allocate funds as appropriate to needs, the highest priority populations across the region will include marginalized, underserved, and historically hard-to-serve groups such as recipients of public assistance (such as SNAP, TANF, and more), the re-entry population, and at-risk youth, as well as veterans and the undereducated and underemployed. Incumbent Workers and Adult Dislocated Workers will also continue to be a focal delivery point for services. Efforts will be made to expand programs targeting TANF and WFNJ recipients to expand co-enrollment in WIOA programs, especially occupational and skills training alongside established Community Work Experience Programs. The region will attempt to enhance outreach efforts to these groups with the goal of increased accessibility to our programs and services.

The region is committed to developing policies that will ensure Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) in each of our local areas. While we have always been committed to serving a diverse cross section of our communities, we believe that DEI policies and strategies must be memorialized to ensure continuity throughout the region. Central Jersey Partners plans to engage DEI subject matter experts to provide guidance on instituting relevant DEI policies.

Please use these data to identify specific target populations and target sectors and occupations for your plan.

The top five industries in terms of net regional employment comprise 53% of the total civilian employed population age 16 and older in the Central Jersey region.

| Industry Sector | # of Job Postings | Net regional employment % |
|--|-------------------|---------------------------|
| Health Care and Social Assistance | 16,478 | 23% |
| Retail Trade | 6,498 | 9% |
| Manufacturing | 5,200 | 7% |
| Professional, Scientific, and Technical Services | 5,164 | 7% |
| Educational Services | 4,924 | 7% |

The Central Jersey region’s existing specialty industry sectors, i.e., categories where the region’s performance outpaces that of the correlating national industry sectors, include Transportation and Warehousing, Educational Services, and Science Technology. Within these industries, material moving is the top occupation by location quotient in the transportation sector, while the science industry is dominated by life, physical, and social science occupations.

| Central NJ Region Emerging Industry & Occupation Top 5’s | | | |
|--|--|---|---------------------------------------|
| Rank | Industries by Job Growth | Industry Sector Occupations by Job Growth | In-DEMAND Occupations by Job Postings |
| 1 | Transportation & Warehousing | Transportation & Material Moving | Registered Nurse |
| 2 | Health Care & Social Assistance | Management | Retail Salesperson |
| 3 | Administrative Support & Waste Remediation | Business & Financial Operations | Application & Software Developer |
| 4 | Professional, Scientific, and Technical Services | Healthcare Practitioner & Technology | Miscellaneous Manager |

|---|--------------|--------------------|--|
| 5 | Construction | Healthcare Support | First-line Supervisors of Retail Sales Workers |

By job numbers, the 5 top growing industries are Transportation and Warehousing, Health Care and Social Assistance, Administrative Support and Waste Remediation, Professional, Scientific, and Technical Services, and Construction. The 5 top-growing occupations are Registered Nurse, Retail Salesperson, Application/Software Developer, Manager (misc.), and First-line Supervisors of Retail Sales Workers.

Required of high demand occupations by employers of the industry sectors identified above.

| Top 5 In-DEMAND Skills | | | |
|------------------------|-------------------|--------------------|------------------------|
| Rank | Industry Specific | Specialized | Soft |
| 1 | Nursing | Customer Service | Communication |
| 2 | Warehousing | Scheduling | Teamwork/Collaboration |
| 3 | Merchandising | Sales | Organization |
| 4 | Marketing | Vaccination | Planning |
| 5 | Auditing | Project Management | Problem Solving |

The most in-demand software skills of 2022, according to NJDOL data, are dominated by the Microsoft Office Suite, with special demand for Excel, PowerPoint, and Word along with Office overall. Rounding out the top 5 skills is SQL, or Structured Query Language, a programming language used for database integration and management.

Top 5 in-demand software skills 2022 (per NJDOL):

1. Microsoft Excel
2. Microsoft Office
3. Microsoft PowerPoint
4. Microsoft Word
5. SQL

The five employers dominating job openings in the region are in the healthcare, higher education, and biology-life science sectors, with the Hackensack Meridian Health and RWJ Barnabas Health networks representing healthcare, Rutgers and Princeton representing education, and Covance representing pharmaceuticals. Combined, these 5 employers advertised 7,434 openings between July 15 and October 12, 2022.

Top 5 employers in region, Q3 2022 by number of job postings (per NJDOL):

1. Hackensack Meridian Health – 2,574 openings
2. Rutgers, the State University of NJ – 1,926 openings
3. Covance Incorporated – 1,114 openings
4. Princeton University – 960 openings
5. RWJ Barnabas Health – 860 openings

How will your region work jointly towards meeting the demands and needs of existing/emerging sectors and occupations?

The Central Jersey Region closely monitors Labor Market trends utilizing several data sources. In addition, each local area leverages its WDB's Business Committees to collect input from businesses regarding industry trends, emerging occupations, workforce proficiency, and economic conditions. These factors are considered when analyzing labor market data, to facilitate a proactive approach to prepare customers for current job opportunities, while focusing on the future upskilling needs of our region's employers.

How will your region work jointly to target jobseekers and workers to meet these industry needs and support skill development and barrier removal for these individuals? Who are the specific populations that are a priority for service based on the data?

Our region plans to develop a customer outreach strategy that will highlight training programs which closely match the needs of the labor sectors previously identified. These outreach efforts will utilize a multi-faceted approach including both in-person and virtual information sessions. Collaboration with community partners including libraries and other community-based organizations will be encouraged. Regional outreach materials will be developed and distributed widely throughout the region. The use of appropriate social media platforms will also be utilized to disseminate program information, by targeting specific audiences, that typically may be hard to reach.

Each local area in the region has developed their own Priority of Service Policies in alignment with WIOA guidelines, as indicated above. Should economic and/or social conditions change, our region is prepared to pivot accordingly and redirect resources as necessary. Appropriate wrap-around services will be provided through partners of our respective one stop systems, along with access to any other resources that are available to address the various barriers our customers may possess. These may include but not limited to Social Services, Literacy Programs, Health Services, Behavioral Health, Housing, Transportation, Child Care, and access to Technology.

Please provide an overview of how your region engages in ongoing analysis and review of LMI data to track changes and adjust strategies.

How does the region work collectively to gather and disseminate LMI information?

LMI data is compiled from sources such as LinkedIn Insights, DOL data, and Lightcast. Data is gathered locally and compiled through comprehensive discussions and communication channels such as the Garden State Employment and Training Association. LMI data is used for strategic decision making and reviewed by partners quarterly. LMI data is also taken back to industry leaders, employers, and other representatives, to verify the results and trends with lived experience. This review provides critical insight and sparks broader discussion of regional labor market and workforce developments.

How does the region work together to build capacity in utilizing LMI?

CJP utilizes each LWDB's Business Services sub-committee to share and analyze LMI. The committees will conduct regional convenings that will evaluate LMI and provide recommendations to CJP regarding demand occupations, training needs, industry recognized credentials, and educational requirements. In doing so, CJP will continue to take a proactive approach in training customers for current and future career opportunities. CJP is dedicated to building a career pathways system that will consist of various workforce development strategies including career services, work-based learning, and customized training.

How does this information drive collective regional efforts to support employers, jobseekers, workers, and other workforce stakeholders?

Labor Market Information is used as a facilitator in relationships with employers and jobseekers. The data information is used as a foundation for strategic priorities and helps to frame conversations around various program scope and application, most often influencing decisions made around training initiatives.

What types of staffing and/or resources are shared regionally to drive this work? How are they funded?

Staffing capacity varies greatly by each partner county in the Central Jersey region due to local priorities and funding allocation. Therefore, efforts toward the review and tracking of LMI data is based upon the needs of residents and the oft changing current circumstances of labor market. The process is continually evolving with its environment and the staff that track LMI changes promptly disseminate information which affects all. While staff are made available and adequately allocated toward ongoing LMI analysis and strategy adjustments, current funding levels do not suffice to meet the needs of the region.

Section 1:B – Strategic Priorities

Regional Strategies for Career Seekers:

- Ensure access to the technology required to compete in the job market.
- Ensure lifelong access to education and training to maintain and advance careers.
- Ensure access to relevant LMI to determine current and future needs.
- Build a foundation of workforce services that are adaptable to evolving economic conditions.

Regional Tactics for Career Seekers:

- Conduct region-wide "Career Day" for High School Students modeled off Middlesex County's current activities and utilizing current resources, connections, & frameworks
 - Engaging parents, targeting graduating students that are not college bound.
- Execute fundable marketing initiatives, including both traditional social media and organic posting.
- Conduct region-wide training information sessions.
- Create region-wide partnerships with library systems or other community organizations (laptop loaner programs, SkillUp, workshops, etc.)

Regional Business Strategies:

- Ensure businesses and employers retain and grow (in size or in professional development, upskilling, etc.) their current workforce while remaining competitive in the global economy.
- Build a foundation of workforce services that are adaptable to changing economic conditions.
 - Training/webinars curated specifically for businesses and employers.

Regional Business Tactics:

- Convene a Regional Business Advisory Summit (Annual)
- Convene Joint Regional Workforce Development Board meeting (Bi-Annual)

- Supplemented by Bi-Monthly Regional WDB Senior Staff Meetings, and
- Special Board/Staff meetings as necessary to address collaborative initiatives or coordinated events.
- Convene Regional Business Services meetings (Quarterly)
- Develop work-based learning partnerships (IWT, OJT) with Regional County Colleges (Ongoing/Regular)
- Review Labor Market Information to adjust services based on market conditions (Bi-annual and/or additional as needed)

Please identify the specific areas where regional partners will target regional approaches to support local strategies through shared capacity and/or joint initiatives.

What opportunities exist for shared programs or service delivery at the regional level that support local area implementation?

Regional approaches and initiatives discussed previously are all opportunities for improved programs and service delivery that support and advance each local WDB’s implementation. An emphasis will be placed on taking a regional approach to contracts for access to technology and shared services. Central Jersey Partners continually explores opportunities that enhance service delivery, increase operational capacity, and provide cost savings across the region. For example, Business Services are being regionalized by labor sector to eliminate redundancy with employers. A similar approach is being considered with program monitoring. In many cases each local area utilizes the same Eligible Training Providers. A common monitoring tool will be utilized and shared among the regional partners, so that a more efficient approach to conducting site visits is realized.

How might the region set a common vision, goals, and/or specific strategies related to:

Industry Pipelines and career pathways

Vision, mission, goals, and strategies are set at the state level through GSETA initiatives and input from all levels of leadership.

Goal 1 – Increase Access to programs and services through regional outreach, including the use of social media, conduct virtual information sessions, and continue a hybrid model of service provision, both in-person, and virtually.

Goal 2 – Establish a “Continuum of Services Model” that encourages customers to establish career pathways through repeat engagement with our American Job Centers, short and long term.

Goal 3 – Enhance our connection to businesses in the region, to further align their training and hiring needs by establishing and maintaining relevant career pathways.

Goal 4 – Integrate Work-based Learning opportunities by aligning the relevant WDB policies regionally, to create a consistent model for job seekers and businesses alike.

Goal 5 – Convene more regional meetings to measure growth and development of the region’s strategies and desired outcomes.

Service delivery, including around ITAs, virtual learning, full range of work-based learning opportunities, supportive services, and job assistance and placement.

The region uses various strategies to prepare customers for demand occupation opportunities. They include ITAs, work-based learning activities, supportive services, career exploration, and job placement assistance.

- Individual Training Accounts (ITAs) — Provide customer access to training programs listed on the Eligible Training Provider’s List (ETPL) as approved by the New Jersey Departments of Education, and Labor & Workforce Development. This customer choice option enables job seekers to choose their desired training program, according to their needs and abilities.
- Work-Based Learning Activities — Provides job seekers with several options that provide the opportunity for immediate job placement. These activities allow customers to earn a wage, while learning or enhancing existing skills. On-The-Job-Training (OJT), Transitional Jobs (TJ), Incumbent Worker Training (IWT), and Apprenticeship, are the programs mainly offered through this model. Our region participated in technical assistance sessions conducted by the GSETA Institute, providing our LWDBs with cutting edge approaches to implementing WBL strategies.
- Supportive Services — Supportive services are services that are necessary to enable an individual to successfully participate in activities authorized under WIOA sec. 134(c)(2) and (3) (adults and dislocated workers) and sec. 129(c)(2) (youth) and defined in WIOA sec. 3(59). Each LWDB has established local policies for the provision of Supportive Services. These Services include but are not limited to the following:
 1. Linkages to Community Services.
 2. Assistance with Transportation.
 3. Assistance with Child and Dependent Care.
 4. Assistance with Educational Testing.
 5. Reasonable Accommodations for Individuals with Disabilities.
 6. Legal Aid Assistance.
 7. Referrals to Health Care.
 8. Assistance with Uniforms and other Work Attire.
 9. Assistance with Books and Fees
 10. Payments for Employment Related Applications & Fees, and Certifications
- Career Exploration and Job Placement Assistance — Customers can access SkillUp NJ to explore career interests and take assessments that will guide them toward the appropriate career pathway. Additionally, each American Job Center offers job placement assistance through Business Services and Case Management Staff. Each AJC has “real-time” job postings that feature current employment opportunities listed by local area, regionally, statewide, and nationally. These postings vary from entry level jobs up to high skilled opportunities.

Please describe how the region will track progress and manage implementation of activities related to common goals and/or specific strategies.

The Central Jersey Partnership has established a meeting schedule for program years 2023 – 2024, which will be composed of the below events and convenings of staff, where progress will be tracked, initiatives will be evaluated, and the planning of activities related to common goals and specific strategies will be discussed.

Regional Operations Meeting - Quarterly (starting in July 2023)

The purpose of these convenings will be to share relevant information and data that impacts our region. These meetings will provide the opportunity to review our regional plan and measure the progress of new initiatives that have been proposed within.

Regional Business Services Team Meeting - Quarterly (starting in August 2023)

The objective of these meetings will be to share and analyze regional LMI. This will position the LWDBs to strategically offer services that align with current and future training and hiring trends.

Business Advisory Summit - Annual (rotating counties each year, starting in September 2023)

This summit will be based on Middlesex County’s Annual Business Summit that was established more than five years ago. A regional summit will highlight best practices, new trends, and highlight the successes of our business partners. Additionally, the regional summit will provide insight into the positive impact that our respective WDBs have in our communities both for job seekers and employers.

These meetings were previously established and will continue.

Regional Board Members Meeting - Annual (starting in 2024)

The LWDBs believe that one annual Regional Board meeting will result in better alignment across our respective organizations.

Please include details regarding specific partners/stakeholders that will contribute to these efforts, as well as specific in-kind or financial contributions that partners will offer.

CJP is using LMI to identify key industry sectors in the Region, then further drilling down to identify high demand occupations within those sectors. The Region will then target priority populations through comprehensive outreach programs including information sessions and regional “career days” in schools as indicated in the above responses to Section 1:B – Strategic Priorities.

Please describe specific plans for leading and supporting the development of career pathways and industry pipelines at the regional level.

What industry sectors or occupations is the region targeting or prioritizing and why?

CJP is using LMI to identify key industry sectors in the Region, then further drilling down to identify high demand occupations within those sectors. See Section 1:A – Analysis of Labor Market Information, specifically questions pertaining to Labor Market Trends.

How are career pathways strategies aligned with serving identified target populations and priority populations identified in WIOA and New Jersey’s state plan (including disadvantaged adults, dislocated workers, youth, and other underserved populations)?

CJP is using LMI to identify key industry sectors in the Region, then further drilling down to identify high demand occupations within those sectors. The Region will then target priority populations through comprehensive outreach programs including information sessions and “career days” in schools.

Establishing career pathways is a major priority for our region. We are working toward building a “Continuum of Service Model” that embraces career pathways and encourages customers to continue access One Stop Services beyond initial job placement. Services include additional training, incumbent worker training, apprenticeships, and on-the-job training opportunities. This model known as “From E-Level to C-Level” encourages customers to access services through our American Job Centers by encouraging customers to engage with the local One-Stop System as necessary.

What stakeholders from across local areas are part of these efforts?

CJP collaborates with multiple stakeholders from the region and state. Listed below are the partners we engage with on a regular basis:

- New Jersey Department of Labor & Workforce Development
- State Employment and Training Commission
- Garden State Employment and Training Association
- New Jersey Business Action Center
- New Jersey Council of Community Colleges
- New Jersey Manufacturing Extension Program
- State, County, Municipal, & Group Chambers of Commerce
- County & Municipal Economic Development Offices/Agencies
- Vocational and Technical Schools
- New Jersey Economic Development Authority
- NJ Department of Education

- NJ Department of Higher Education
- Human Services Advisory Committees
- Community & Faith-based organizations
- Consortium of Libraries

How will regional partners engage in and continue this work?

Our region is committed to continue working with the partners identified above. In addition, we are mindful that additional partnerships can be forged depending on shifting priorities and changes in the economy. By leveraging the resources and expertise of these partners, we will continue to build a seamless regional workforce development system that encourages innovation, is responsive, and efficient. Building Career Pathways is the main pillar of our region’s approach to providing services that serve both job seekers and businesses. This strategy enables us to utilize a variety of approaches including ITAs, Co-Hort Training, and Work- Based Learning Programs. This empowers our local areas to “meet customers where they’re at” in response to their job training and placement needs.

Section 2 – One Stop Career Center Operations

Section 2:A – Service Delivery and Flow

Please explain how the region will help support the integration of partners, programs, and services across all One Stop centers in the region.

What partner and program relationships can be developed at the regional level to support integration of services across One Stop Career Centers?

There are five American Job Centers within the Central Jersey Partners Region – one in Mercer County, one in Ocean County, one in Monmouth County, and two in Middlesex County – and all service delivery is designed to be uniform across the locations. Some well-established and structurally integrated partners include state agencies such as: Employment Services (ES), the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Services (DVR), and the 55+ program; ES specifically collaborates on WIOA Title III services while DVR collaborates on Title IV. Across the region, these partners and their analogues will coordinate resources, programs, and efforts. This will include, but will not be limited to, working with each local County’s Workforce Development Board and government administration Economic Development arm, each County’s respective educational institutions including Community Colleges, Vocational Technical Schools system, and additional public/private colleges and universities.

What common models or recommendations for operational efforts related to One Stop delivery and flow might be established at the regional level?

Prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, the region has been making efforts to implement a human-centered design/service delivery model, to meet customers where they are. Initially this began with designing a network of satellite locations for extended One-Stop Career Center Services, making use of local partnerships with community-based organizations and public libraries. During and after the pandemic, the emphasis has shifted to expanding virtual services in such a way as to bring services deeper into the community and making them more accessible. These virtual services have included virtual assessments and certifications, online/remote learning, free digital workshops on a variety of relevant workforce readiness topics, and online job fairs and hiring events. The Job Fair format was also revised during the Health Care Emergency to include Drive-thru Job Fairs. Beyond that, virtual services have expanded staff training and development opportunities, as well, through the GSETA Institute, Workforce GPS, and NJDOL's free mental health-focused workshops.

What mechanisms or resources can be organized regionally to support partner and service integration and coordinated service delivery in an ongoing way?

Across the region, transportation is a significant barrier for many service populations when it comes to attending in-person programs and appointments. In Middlesex County, the Middlesex County Area Transit (MCAT) shuttle helped alleviate the transportation burden for some but was terminated immediately prior to pandemic and has not been resumed. A regional partnership to provide transportation solutions throughout the four CJP Counties would be a welcome resolution, but in practice the endeavor would be logistically difficult and financially nonviable. The focus, instead, will therefore be on expanding virtual services and service delivery modalities, applying telehealth models to customer counseling, and encouraging virtual service delivery whenever possible technological limitations must be considered, as not all customers within service populations have regular access to desktop computers, smart devices, and/or high-speed internet. State and Federal funding for expanding technology access is also periodically available to allow for expansion of laptop lending programs; applying for these opportunities as a regional consortium will allow for more competitive applications and larger collective pools of resources. Virtual learning contracts through service providers such as Aztec Learning, Metrix Learning, and LinkedIn Learning can be negotiated at better rates and deployed on a regional level to a wider customer base.

What other regional partnerships can be leveraged to support partnership and service delivery across the regions One Stop Career centers?

Primarily through Work First New Jersey programs, strong relationships have been formed with various local, state, and national-level entities that target the various priority service populations of the CJP, such as the New Jersey Business Action Center, the Consortium of Community Colleges, the New Jersey statewide Chamber of Commerce, New Jersey Reentry Corporation, the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), Youth & Job Corps, and the Literacy Partners of Central New Jersey. Local partnerships include family support organizations, food distribution organizations, social services organizations, the Literacy Partners of Central New Jersey, The Father Center of New Jersey, Community Based Organizations, and numerous others. Through these community relationships, the American Job Centers have a perpetual flow of customers, along with triage, case management, and service delivery assistance. By investing in and nurturing these relationships, the CJP can ensure greater community outreach and integration, consistent service delivery with a regular flow of customers, and overall, a better reputation among priority populations.

Please describe how the region will integrate the voice of those who are served into program development, design, and operation. Regional Youth Voice efforts must be described.

The Shared Youth Vision Council is a state-wide body formed by the State Employment and Training Commission, which serves as a platform for WIOA Youth and their service providers to collaborate on developing successful, results-driven education and employment programs and models. Because this is a state entity, regional pathways for collaboration are already well-established. Going further, exit surveys are to be conducted regularly by the One Stop Operators for WIOA program participants and job seekers and by respective business/employer liaisons for employers; efforts will be made to formalize and standardize these surveys and analyze and exchange results to inform best practices. Strategies to improve response rate to these surveys are being explored.

Please describe any efforts at the regional level to engage and outreach to new and existing partners to enhance service delivery across the region's One Stop Career Centers.

Each member of the Central Jersey Partners has cultivated a local network of community partners providing supportive services, employers and trade organization representatives, and focused resource and advocacy agents. Though many supportive services are delivered locally, Central Jersey Partners will engage regional and/or statewide organizations, as appropriate. Regardless of the regional or local footprint of the provider(s), each CJP local area will create an inventory of supportive services and providers to distribute to staff and customers. By combining each Partner's individual repertoire into a cache of shared resources, the CJP will be able to provide options and fill local level service gaps.

How might partnerships at the regional level enhance and support service delivery related to:

Supportive services: mental health, substance abuse, housing, transportation, childcare services

The CJP will share their respective WDB's policies for support services, share social service resource directories, and offer specialized services that cross over borders, e.g. JARC transportation grants and local transportation services to Six Flags/Great Adventure for summer employment. Each of the local areas has fully executed Memorandums of Understanding with its One Stop Partners. In addition to the mandated partners, there are others included in the MOUs that provide wrap-around services for our customers. A list of regional one-stop partners can be found in addendum.

Employer engagement: Business/trade organizations, Economic development

The streamlining of business and employer communication channels and coordinated messaging on seamless service/program delivery that transcends county borders within the CJP region will demonstrate mechanisms by which partnerships will be strengthened on the regional level to enhance and support service delivery. As previously stated, CJP will facilitate discussion between Economic Development entities, local and statewide, to enhance communication and lessen duplication of services within our respective business communities.

Specific target populations: Youth services, LGBTQIA organizations, organizations promoting DEI.

Working with specific target populations will be a focus of the CJP's internal/staff training and development efforts. The GSETA Institute has offered multiple training programs within this space, as have individual County Human Resources departments.

Section 2:B – Operational Priorities

Please describe any region-wide operations/service priorities that should inform and guide operations/services across local areas.

The process by which region-wide operation and service priorities were developed and their use in informing and guiding local area activities has been discussed throughout Section 1. These answers describe and demonstrate the CJP's opinion of significant, valuable influencing factors that should be considered.

Please describe the supports that the region will offer in supporting regional operations/service priorities and/or common local priorities.

Will the implementation of specific programs or services occur at the regional level?

Specific programs and services that can be deployed at the regional level include enhancements to online learning opportunities such as LinkedIn Learning, Metrix/SkillUp, and other online platforms that may be procured. Further, as stated in Section 1, the expansion of recruiting events, both virtual and in-person, in the form of regional job fairs and wider-reaching virtual hiring events, is a crucial goal for the Central Jersey Partners, with a priority placed on learning from successful pandemic strategies and cooperating to avoid cannibalizing overlapping service populations.

Will the region offer specific funding to support these service priorities?

Because of limitations on funding, compounded by present technical restrictions on joint outcome reporting, it will not be possible for the region to directly pool financial resources across the Central Jersey Partners' WDBs. However, opportunities for collaborative application for additional resources will be pursued, as appropriate. When circumstances dictate as much, there will be a priority on the formation of coalitions and consortia in the pursuit of additional funding via grants to facilitate regional efforts.

Will the region offer specific training to support the implementation of these priorities?

Statewide training through the GSETA Institute will remain the primary source of education on these priorities. Beyond that, specific training aligned to local and regional priorities will be provided as needed by way of in-person and virtual workshops and seminars. Once standard operating procedures have been formalized, they will be written and distributed among the CJP, as a persistent reference.

Will the region support data collection?

While the ability to generate regional reports is as-yet limited by the current databases and software that New Jersey's Workforce Development Boards have access to, each Partner can generate and share their individual local reports and has access to state-wide reports regarding jobseeker activities. Beyond that, services such as Lightcast, LinkedIn Talent Insights, and LinkedIn Recruiter will allow for both in-depth granular and aggregate regional and local labor market data. The CJP will analyze and leverage this data for collaborative endeavors. The CJP will also utilize FutureWorks to gather and analyze local data beneficial to the region.

Please describe any role that the region may play in supporting operations at the local level by coordinating activities related to:

Outreach/recruitment

Because of the proximity of the CJP's respective areas, there is significant overlap in service populations, and customers living on borders of the component Counties, especially, can benefit from having access to services by multiple One-Stop Career Centers. Therefore, to ensure reach captures all job seekers across the region, the CJP will consolidate, where appropriate, outreach and recruitment efforts by way of E-mail, social media marketing, text messaging via GuideByCell, website and online presence, joint events, and more. Over the next two years, the CJP will develop a cohesive and comprehensive regional social media outreach plan, first by creating and promoting a LinkedIn Career page for the Central Jersey Region to consolidate individual efforts and expand reach.

Service delivery related to, e.g., ITAs, work-based learning, and/or supportive services.

The region plans on offering training through a cohort model, that would allow the CJP to extend training opportunities to larger groups of job seekers throughout the program year. The types of training offered through this model would be determined using LMI and input from employers regarding job opportunities they are looking to fill. While the use of ITAs can be effective, the CJP believe that training a group of customers in in-demand occupations will have a greater positive impact on meeting businesses' hiring demands.

CJP also plans on developing a regional strategy for work-based learning activities. While funding for these activities varies in each local area, it will not impede progress in this area. CJP will utilize the NJ DOL's Master Work-Based Learning (WBL) Master Agreement that is currently being developed. This will streamline employers' participation in WBL activities. Furthermore, as described in Section 1, CJP intends to take a larger regional approach to delivering Business Services, including WBL. Regional outreach materials will be developed for both businesses and job seekers, highlighting the benefits of WBL.

Under WIOA, local areas can provide eligible customers supportive services correlated to the services received at the American Job Centers. Typically, these supportive services are provided on an individual basis as determined by customer needs and circumstances. While CJP shares information on community resources, it is unlikely that any sort of regional funding mechanism for the provision of support services will be established, other than what is allowed through WIOA.

Follow-up supports and achievement of successful outcomes for participants.

Please describe opportunities for the region to support programs and/or services related to specific target populations highlighted in the bullets above.

Each LWDB has developed policies that articulate their Priority of Service strategies in accordance with WIOA. These populations include:

- Recipients of Public Assistance
- Veterans
- Formerly Incarcerated
- Homeless
- Differently Abled
- Long Term Unemployed

Section 2:C – Service Expansion and Accessibility in OSCC

Please describe the role of the region in the development/implementation of any technical solutions designed to expand the reach of services provided by local areas.

How might the region support joint development to ensure consistency across the area?

Statewide, all WDB Directors meet on a biweekly basis, using this meeting to generate and discuss solutions to issues, while sharing best practices and procedures. This began during the pandemic, and the demonstrable benefit of such lends itself to continuing these meetings for the foreseeable future. These convenings often include NJDOL partners and other collaborators from across New Jersey who share resources that are relevant to workforce development activities and services.

How might the region support joint training of staff or training with staff in individual local areas?

CJP participates in staff training and development that is provided to all LWDBs statewide through the Garden State Employment and Training Association's Garden State Training Institute's comprehensive course offerings. Additionally, the region utilizes additional training resources offered through USDOL's Workforce GPS, The National Association of Workforce Boards, The National Association of Workforce Development Professionals, and other nationally focused Professional Associations.

Please describe any role the region would take in physically or programmatically expanding the access to facilities, programs, or services.

How would the region ensure support/participation for individuals with disabilities and ensure that any expansion considers diversity, equity, and inclusion?

The primary goal is to ensure that facilities are ADA, PDA, and EEOA-compliant; as specific regulations and requirements change over time, there will be an emphasis on maintaining and updating infrastructure and embracing accommodations as circumstances allow, ideally pre-empting issues before they become liabilities. This will require the continued regular inspection of facilities to ensure compliance with the aforementioned laws. If any issues are identified, the appropriate Partners will be contacted so that remediation can occur. As an example, statewide, the One-Stop Career Centers have all recently been equipped with lactation rooms to meet the needs of nursing individuals. Going further, the CJP will forge and enrich relationships with government and non-government entities that serve individuals with disabilities to enhance our own services while also building a referral network for services that go beyond the resources afforded to the CJP directly. These relationships include the NJDOJ Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Services, the NJDOJ Office of Diversity and Compliance, and the NJDOH Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired, as examples of government agencies, as well as local non-profit and community-based organizations like the Easterseals. One method by which these relationships will be strengthened will be through the actions of the respective LWDB's Disability/Abilities Committees.

How would the region include joint training for regional partner/stakeholder training? Please provide insight on efforts to make expansion and any associated materials and training tools accessible for individuals with disabilities.

Per WIOA regulation, the LWDBs must convene certain mandatory committees, among which are disability-focused committees. These Disability/Abilities Committees serve as established pathways by which community needs can be communicated to the WDBs and can be additionally utilized in a collaborative manner across the CJP. Committees can be used to provide technical assistance training, along with virtual workshops and webinars targeting the disabled population. For instance, the Middlesex WDB's Abilities Committee worked together with DVRS in early 2023 to organize virtual "Beyond the ADA" workshops, along with a more substantial neurodiversity-focused event to coincide with Autism Awareness Month, using the Abilities Committee as an avenue for regional collaboration and learning. The region plans to consult with Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) subject matter experts to come up with strategies for training not only One-Stop staff and partners but other collaborators in the region.

Please describe the process the region would use in taking a lead role in any form of expansion and how it would work with and inform its individual members and respective LWDBs.

Instead of the four Central Jersey Partner Counties working separately toward individual goals in a haphazard manner, the goal is to collaborate across the region to unify the approach to expanding accessibility. Planning matters such as training initiatives, infrastructural upgrades, program and service delivery protocols, expansion of access to services, and so on, will begin at the regional level then be implemented individually by the Partners.

Please indicate what considerations the region shall make to ensure that service expansion considers new approaches/strategies for potential resolution. This should include, but not be limited to, digital equity and education considerations.

A key consideration in the expansion of virtual services referred to in Section 2:A is digital equity and accessibility. The CJP will prioritize building or redesigning websites such that they are compliant and accessible to people regardless of ability, language, or sensory limitations, from writing in plain language to reach the widest audience to including captions on videos, transcripts of audio, and descriptive text on visual media. To successfully deploy virtual services, consistent and universal access to technology and Broadband service is crucial, making this a significant priority in the local areas. For example, during the pandemic, LWDBs procured hardware such as ChromeBooks, to loan to constituents who lacked adequate technology to access One-Stop Services. These ChromeBooks and similar devices are equipped with AirCards, enabling customers to access no-cost broadband service through the County. In many cases, the local areas partnered with other government agencies, libraries, and community-based organizations to facilitate the distribution of the previously referenced devices. Although the pandemic has mainly abated, the LWDBs continue to offer their respective laptop loaner programs. Going further, initiatives to expand no- or low-cost broadband access to low- and moderate-income residents of the CJP have been proposed at the local level, although these plans are longer term.

Section 2:D – Detailed Partnership and Service Integration

Please describe how regional efforts may assist local areas in building relationships and coordinating with key partners – those articulated in WIOA as required partners, as well as any critical regional partners unique to your area – to move beyond referrals/handoffs to integrated service models for participants and co-enrollment opportunities.

What role has and/or will your region play in leading discussion with specific partners/stakeholders who must be included in local Memoranda of Understanding (MOUs) or include in an Infrastructure Funding Agreement (IFAs)?

The New Jersey Department of Labor has extended each local area's current MOU and IFA through the end of calendar year 2023. It is anticipated that new MOUs and IFAs will be implemented January 1, 2024. As part of the process, each local area will take the lead in negotiating and drafting revised MOUs and IFAs. Where appropriate One Stop Operators provide support in this effort, serving as the conduit between the LWDBs and One Stop Partners required to sign to the MOU and IFA.

What role has and/or will your region play in helping to negotiate with specific partners/stakeholders to establish agreements with partners/stakeholders, particularly those that have a regional footprint?

Each LWDB has common regional partners that are parties to our MOUs and IFAs. Many of these include state agencies such as the New Jersey Department of Labor, the Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired, and Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. Other common partners include Youth Build, Job Corp., Department of Housing & Urban Development, TANF, SNAP, Employment Services offered through the Wagner-Peyser Act, Trade Adjustment Assistance, Senior Community Service Employment, Migrant & Seasonal Farm Worker Program, Native American Programs, and WIOA Title I Programs including Adult, Dislocated Worker, and Youth.

Please describe how regional efforts may help to build the capacity for service integration in local One Stop Career Centers through cross-training of staff, provision of technical assistance, sharing of information, etc., and other supports.

Each local area has had internal discussions about cross-training and educating staff. This includes many One-Stop partners such as Employment Services, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, Trade Act, and WorkFirst New Jersey. This effort will be driven by the WDB Directors in each local area who provide oversight to the local workforce system and its partners. Wherever appropriate, communication will be generated by the WDB director and filtered through the WDB to relevant partners. Each WDB guides the direction of their respective local area, specific to their needs as reflected in their local WIOA plans.

Section 2:E – Employer Engagement

Please describe the role the region will play in the Employer Engagement efforts.

How will the region conduct outreach to, as well as develop and maintain relationships with, employers?

Business services staff will liaison employer communications to all regional services staff. Regional partners will also work in tandem with State DOL Industry Pathways liaisons to foster the growth of existing relationships.

What services or programs, if any, will be delivered regionally?

Regional service and program delivery has been previously described, both in Sections 1 and 2. Examples provided thus far include public outreach and educational efforts such as career days and super job fairs covering the geographic region.

What shared costs and capacity will support these regional efforts?

Each local area is limited to the funding as provided and budgets are approved by respective WDBs; system does not allow for direct redistribution of funds. The streamlining of employer communication channels and coordinated messaging on seamless service/program delivery that transcends county borders within the CJP region will constitute shared capacity efforts and subsequent cost-sharing by means of reducing duplicated activities with identical intended outcomes, and consequently providing individual staff greater availability for other projects and responsibilities.

The CJP will work to regionalize services to enhance existing local level output production without pooling resources directly due to funding limitations. Each local area responds accordingly to alternate funding sources that exist, and the CJP will form consortia and coalitions as applicable.

Please describe how the region's efforts will coordinate with local efforts and those of other partners/stakeholders working with employers in the region, including state Business Services activities.

What will be the roles and responsibilities of state partners, the region, LWDBs, and other entities in building coordinated employer engagement strategies and a system of services and supports?

The coordination of Business Services has been, and will continue to be, a primary focus of the Region. The CJP Meeting Calendar (Section 1:B) includes quarterly Regional Business Services Team meetings which will be attended by state and local staff. The Regional Business Services Team meetings will be designed to share best practices, develop innovative strategies, establish service delivery priorities, and coordinate sector-based outreach efforts.

In addition, an Annual Regional Business Summit is also on the CJP Meeting Calendar. Gathering intelligence from the business community is a cornerstone of the CJP engagement strategy.

When appropriate, the Business Reps of the CJP will work together as one team in relation to employer interactions, business development, and job placement activity. They will

- Share ideas, insights and develop a strategy on how best to serve a particular employer(s)/industry within the region.
- Share job leads and designate a Single Point of Contact when a large multi-county employer with significant hiring or training needs. That Rep will become the lead and disseminate job orders, etc. to the regions BSRs to maximize CJP ability to serve the employer and link candidates from across the region to that employer.

What will the flow of employer engagement and services look like? Where will different partners support this flow?

As mentioned above, quarterly team meetings and an annual business summit will form the framework for employer engagement. The goal of these efforts is to support the region's commitment to build strong relationships with our business partners to support their recruitment, reskilling, and retention needs.

Please describe how the region might help build employer engagement capacity across and within local areas.

Will the region offer specific funding to support employer engagement activities?

It is unlikely that the four regional partners will combine or regionalize funding for employer engagement activities. However, an effort will be made to develop regional outreach materials, for example, that can be shared among the partners.

Each LWDB leverages WIOA funding to provide Business Services by local staff, coordinating these activities with NJ DOL Business Services Representatives. This tandem approach allows the LWDBs to establish seamless employer engagement activities through a coordinated effort between local and state staff. Such efforts include local/regional hiring efforts, including positive recruitments, job fairs, job postings, and job matching.

CJP and the other WDB regions in New Jersey recently partnered with the New Jersey Business Action Center to enhance our business outreach efforts. NJBAC will coordinate this initiative with GSETA and provide access to its vast database of businesses located in New Jersey, including those in the Central Jersey Region. It is anticipated that this initiative will significantly augment our business engagement efforts by educating employers about One-Stop Services, and the role of our Workforce Development Boards.

Will the region offer specific training or technical assistance to support the implementation of these priorities?

As with all staff, training for the Business Services Teams will be an on-going priority. The GSETA Institute and GSETA Conference offer business training opportunities, as will the sharing of best practices during the quarterly team meetings.

Will the region support coordinated data collection?

Historically, data collection has been conducted by the NJ DOL and shared with local areas. It is not anticipated that this arrangement will change. Any data provided to the local areas will be analyzed and used to identify labor market trends, and changes in economic conditions throughout the region.

Section 3 – Local WDB Structure & Functions

Section 3:A – Labor and Workforce Development Area Structure

Please describe any role the region will play in support the capacity and development of LWDBs and/or fiscal agents.

By way of convening regular, scheduled meetings and events among the Partners and respective WDBs, the Central Jersey Partners will play a collaborative role in improving the performance, and expanding the capacity, of local WDBs and fiscal agents.

Does the region have any formal role in identifying potential Board members for its local colleagues?

The Central Jersey Region does not have a formal role in identifying Board members for its local colleagues, however, each local Workforce Development Board in the region is individually empowered to make recommendations to respective chief elected officials regarding Board membership. The Central Jersey Partners practice a more conventional approach to identifying potential individuals for any type of engagement of the local boards. The region's role continues to be in the collective strengthening of relationships with major regional employers, such as the RWJ-Barnabas and Hackensack-Meridian Health networks or PSE&G, to encourage the participation of industry leaders in workforce development planning, activities, and strategy.

Does the region have any joint committees to discuss shared matters? How are committees structured and how is business conducted?

Although the region does not have joint committees specific to the central region of the state, initiatives such as the Garden State Employment and Training Association (GSETA), act as the platform for regional and broader state-level cooperation and collaboration about shared matters. This environment enables discussion between members of local-level Boards and committees through activities like conferences, state-wide coalitions, professional development seminars, Lunch-and-Learn workshops, and more. Further, the state of New Jersey is geographically small and dense in population, and as such the State benefits from numerous tools to empower communication between Counties, municipalities, and other local and regional entities.

Does the region provide any training or technical assistance to support LWDB capacity-building (e.g., agreement development, designation)

Training support, and other assistance, is provided to Local Workforce Development Boards more so on the State level than the regional level in the great state of New Jersey, the second most populated territory in the nation. Our proximity and co-location to colleagues allow for more frequent opportunities to support capacity building on a wider scale. The unique set of circumstances under which the New Jersey Workforce ecosystem operates can again be seen through the Garden State Employment and Training Association (GSETA) and its subsidiaries. Each LWDB is represented through their leadership team's participation in this state-wide alliance, which serves as a clearinghouse for solution building, consensus agreement development, and strategy alignment. The sharing of resources such as procurement documents, for example use-case studies, are practiced on a continuous basis. GSETA serves as a hub for all LWDB's in the state and functions as a collective training provider for staff development, activity alignment, policy development, and technical assistance.

Section 3:B – Procurement of Operator and Services

Please describe any role the region has or intends to have in assisting its members in the procurement of a One Stop Operator, One Stop Career Services provider, or Youth Services providers, e.g., supporting procurement procedures, sharing procurement materials, managing lists of potential vendors, and/or supporting the development of scopes of service.

Commonly held principles and standards are developed through proactive collaboration on the state level through GSETA leadership and are not designed to be based on WIOA Region, again due to the compact nature of the State as a whole. State and Local Workforce Development Board members meet regularly through GSETA committees, NJDOL project teams, and Statewide Training & Employment Commission meetings. The Central Jersey Region functions as a collaborative team of supports and resources which are readily available to one another and most often address the effects of nearby and/or overlapping demographics, geography, industries, sectors, and business entities. While these characteristics resemble those measured at the state level, the role of the Central Jersey Region is to serve as auxiliary advocates based on the specific traits of the defined area boundaries established by the SETC and promulgated according to WIOA mandate. Some examples of shared resources are provided in the response to the questions included in the immediately prior subsection A.

Section 3:C – Oversight and Monitoring

Please describe any role or support the region will play in oversight and monitoring of programs/services within the region, e.g., monitoring of shared providers, facilitating sharing of results, or supporting shared analysis of individual LWDB monitoring reports

Descriptions of the role(s) performed by the region can be found in our response to the second and third questions of Section 3:A, as well as the response provided above for subsection B prompt. Examples of shared supports comprising the role(s) are demonstrated throughout the regional plan's previous answers in this section as well as Sections 1 & 2.

Please describe how oversight and monitoring efforts that are conducted or culled at the regional level are shared with LWDB members and staff.

Please reference Section 3, subsection A, question 2, and subsection B. To elaborate further, GSETA oversees and monitors the activities of the localities within the Central Jersey Region, by way of dedicated Operations, Monitoring, Youth program, Fiscal, MIS, and other state-wide committees where representatives from each County periodically meet and exchange best practices. The existing structure of state and regional levels of decision making and efforts are conducted with both regional and local members and staff, having a seat at the table. GSETA also collects regional data and generates reports which are then distributed among the CJP and other invested parties through digital means such as e-mail, newsletters, and the GSETA website. These state-level processes continue to streamline oversight and monitoring efforts by reducing the breadth of top-to-bottom communication streams and minimizing the amount of time required for messages to transpire. The result of which is a culture that is transparent and a network of informed professionals which lessens the number of individually dedicated local board staff work hours previously dedicated toward duplicated tasks.

Section 3:D – Performance Measures and Accountability

Please describe any role or support the region will play in helping LWDBs to track and measure local levels of performance, e.g., training, shared tracking, etc.

Per NJDOL regulations, the CJP region is not permitted to use third-party databases for measurement and/or tracking of performance levels across the region beyond the approved AOSOS and FutureWorks' Performance Matters software programs. With this restriction in mind, the Central Jersey Partners will work collaboratively to improve data management and reporting capabilities through participating in the State Workforce Modernization Core Committee, which was convened by the NJDOL to identify a new database system for procurement across the state. The Director of the Middlesex County Workforce Development Board will serve as the region's representative on this state-wide Committee.

The CJP will explore the possibility of adopting a new approach to using existing, approved database management systems to generate regional reports measuring service levels, enrollments, exits, carryovers, and demographics. Central Jersey Partners have initiated conversations with the software manufacturer to gauge their interest in the proposed request. The CJP maintains the belief that bypassing technical restrictions could allow for the aggregation of data points, therefore producing the components needed to calculate regional performance levels, solely through internal efforts. While the proposal is still in its initial phases, internal discussions on future implementation have included various ideas including the annual or biannual collection of these regional data points to be analyzed for the purposes of illustrating correlation measurements between labor market data and area enrollment rates, program reports, customer migration patterns and other performance metrics as available.

Section 3:E – Training and Development

Please describe any role that the region will take in training and development.

How will the region support staff and partners in developing their practice and aligning capacity with the expectations of state, regional, and local plan priorities (training, technical assistance, conference attendance)?

Please reference previous Section 3, subsection A – C responses for descriptions and examples of shared supports, best practices, and general priority alignment. As has been established thus far, most New Jersey's activities and practices are more frequently performed on a state level, through the Garden State Employment and Training Association. This approach has, and will continue to, produce more efficient and effective outcomes for the state. Additional details can be found throughout this publication.

Who will regional training and development opportunities target and why?

State training (also known as Regional in New Jersey) as well as development opportunities will target managers, mid-, and lower-level staff of LWDB's, according to NJDOL funding guidelines and best practices. The strategic goal of training and development opportunities is to improve processes, procedures, and protocols that best allow the CJP to serve the public and attain collective and individual goals pertaining to workforce and economic development growth. Training opportunities will also be extended to contracted One-Stop Operators and other partner entities such as Eligible Training Providers, employers, and resource agencies, as appropriate, to facilitate collaboration and cooperation.

What specific topics will training and development opportunities cover?

Based on past topics of professional development conferences and training through the GSETA Institute, WorkforceGPS, USDOL/NJDOL, SETC, and Workforce180, as well as existing partnerships with GSETA, the NJ Business Action Center, the NJ Economic Development Authority and others, the following topics which were covered in 2022, will be expanded and added to.

2021 GSETA Annual Conference

Webinar development and delivery, Customer Service, Human Resources, Data Systems, Community Outreach, Transformation Leadership, Leadership Styles & Strategies, Motivational Techniques, Documentation Skills, Personalized Learning, National Workforce Policy, Client Partnerships, Training Services Investments, Health & Wellness.

WorkforceGPS Webinars

Co-Enrollment Strategies, DEIA (Diversity, Equity, Inclusion & Accessibility) Strategies for WDB Boards & Entities, Training Employment Guidance, Outreach & Marketing, TTA (Training Technical Assistance) Workshops, WIOA Funding Sources, Employment & Case Management, etc.

US&NJ DOL/SETC

Work-Based Learning: Candidate and Employer Processes, Lead Generation, Prospecting, Contracting, Invoicing, Fiscal Trackers. WIOA Program Oversight and Development, SkillUp Staff Training, Individual Employment Plans (IEP), Individual Service Strategies (ISS), Measurable Skill Gains (MSG), Federal Bonding, Adult and Dislocated Workers, Services for Individuals with Disabilities, Governance and Planning, Performance Accountability, Career Pathways and Industry Partnerships, Services for Youth, One-Stop Operations

Workforce180

Business Services, Case Management, Leadership Development, Motivational Interviewing, Racial Equity, Reentry Services, Time Management, Business for Women, OSY/ISY Youth Worker.

Metrix Learning: SkillUp

The thousands of courses in Metrix Learning’s SkillUp course catalogue – which are available to all staff at no cost – cover a wide range of topics from soft skills like communication, problem solving and mediation, managing customer relationships, and time management, to technical, credential-aligned skills like project management, data analysis, and various Microsoft certifications. Over 100 ETPL Industry Recognized Credentials.

How will individual LWDBs contribute to training agendas and costs?

Per federal statute, 1% of WIOA budgets is to be allocated to staff training and development. Each local area will follow state and federal procurement procedures for securing additional training services in accordance with this funding allowance while also investigating and sharing additional no-cost resources should they be discovered. All local WDB directors throughout the State of New Jersey contribute to and collaborate on developing training and conference agendas through the Executive Committee of GSETA.

Please describe how the region will identify and secure training and development partners, safeguard against conflicts of interest, and ensure that suitable firewalls are in place.

Please refer to all prior Section 3 responses referencing the activities and operations of the Garden State Employment and Training Association. To reiterate and expand upon the previously provided answers, each local area will follow their local, state, and federal procurement processes for the securing of training providers. Additional no-cost resources such as those conducted by USDOL and WorkforceGPS trainings will be utilized in addition to the occasional, no-cost, workshops provided by NAWDAP, NAWB, and the GSETA Institute. Supplementary resources such as NJDOL hybrid technical assistance programs and auxiliary training opportunities will also be leveraged for the purposes outlined in this prompt. Further, each local area recently completed an annual procurement training through GSETA Institute addressing conflicts of interest and firewalls, etc. This exercise will continue to be followed each program year.

Please describe any specific learning platforms and/or online tools and resources that the region will draw on to support training and development.

Through GSETA and other local initiatives, the CJP will have access to numerous online learning platforms & tools including SkillUp, WorkforceGPS, and various one-off or occasional webinar and workshop providers. Central region partners will explore options to expand their repertoire of virtual learning platforms and curricula through the pursuit. Descriptions of the learning platforms and online tools referenced thus far can be found on the respective websites of the educational providers and government entities.

Section 3:F – Regional and Local Plan Development

Describe process to create regional and local plans, in respective plans, and provide assurances that it was an open and transparent process, including, the following:

List and describe any meetings of workgroups, taskforces or similar efforts. Documentation of these meetings, including minutes and attendees, must be maintained regionally or locally. Include a list of the participants and their organizations. (This should include representatives of LWDBs, LWDB staff, fiscal agent staff, local elected officials, local public entities, regional and local economic development partners, employers and employer organizations, WIOA/One Stop service providers and partners, such as Adult Education and Literacy providers, community colleges, NJ Industry Partnerships and other entities with a stake in the local workforce system and plan.)

The Central Jersey Partnership Regional Plan Team convened for the first time on October 4, 2022, for the purpose of creating a strategic planning framework for the creation of the new 2023 WIOA Regional Plan Report. Regional Plan Team meetings were conducted for a duration of 1 – 1.5 hours on average. The Central Jersey Partnership Regional Plan Team consisted of the following Individuals:

- Kevin Kurdziel, CEO & Executive Director, Workforce Development Board of Middlesex County, Office of Career Opportunity, Department of Economic Development, Middlesex County
- Lawrence Sternbach, Executive Director, Monmouth County Workforce Development Board
- Virgen Velez, Director, Mercer County Workforce Development Board
- Cheryl Meyer, Program Coordinator, Ocean County Workforce Development Board
- Dana Jordan, Workforce Development Board Policy Analyst, Office of Career Opportunity, Department of Economic Development, Middlesex County
- Jasmina Dizdaveric, Workforce Development Board Planner, Office of Career Opportunity, Department of Economic Development, Middlesex County

The 2023 Central Jersey Partnership Regional Plan was written by the Staff of the Middlesex County Workforce Development Board listed above. Working Sessions listed below consisted of regular collaborative meetings between Ms. Jordan and Ms. Dizdaveric for the drafting and coordination of completed document. Executive Director Kevin Kurdziel often participated in Working Sessions for a portion of the meeting to contribute to writing efforts and provide leadership, guidance, and advice to his staff, the primary authors. Working Session meetings were conducted for 1.5 - 2.5 hours on each occurrence.

Describe the process used by the region and the LWDBs to make available copies of the proposed local plan to the public, through electronic and other means such as public hearings and local news media; ensuring that the document was made available in accessible formats.

Regional & Local Plans will be published in both print and online press outlets in accordance with WIOA regulations. In addition, plans will be posted on each partner county's WDB government webpage, shared through multi-media channels, and distributed to members of the local boards of the central region of New Jersey for review and feedback. Members of the public wishing to provide comment on the 2023 Central Jersey Partnership Regional Plan may contact their respective Local Workforce Development Board.

Throughout the planning process, several stakeholder engagement meetings were held to empower the involvement of employers, higher educational institutions, and related partners, in the process of proactively responding to the anticipatory needs and concerns of those entities, and their employees.

The CJP hopes to see the growth of State's capacity to provide not only, more inclusive, accessible copy formats for the draft to be provided through, but also a dedicated 'regional' partner's section of the State site that could act as the lead authority for the maintenance and upkeep of contact information, plans, and related documents for public access. Similar to the Career Services Support Form, comments and feedback could be submitted through and funneled to the appropriate designated staff using a statewide digital platform.

Describe the process used to provide an opportunity for public comment, including comment by representatives of businesses, representatives of labor organizations, and representatives of education and input into the development of the local plan, prior to submission of the plan.

During the planning process, stakeholder meetings were held in advance of the writing stages of the Plan to allow for early strategic guidance and input from representatives of business, labor organizations, and education. The status of the plan has been and will continue to be regularly mentioned in open public WDB meetings, which themselves are an avenue by which the public may offer their feedback for direct review by the CJP – whether by way of e-mail, a comment box, or other web-based submission form.

The Central Jersey Partnership hosted their first stakeholder engagement meeting in October of 2022. Documentation detailing that meeting can be found in the final pages of the document.

Describe any additional regional and/or local requirements or processes for public comments. Provide a list of stakeholders who were notified of the opportunity for public comments in both regional and local plans. Include as an attachment to the finalized plans any such comments including those that represent disagreement with the plan.

Plans should be viewed as system-wide/community documents. To that end, it is expected that any resulting document is not the sole work of any individual or a single entity. Please ensure that the plans highlight the ways in which community partners at the regional and local levels were involved in the development of plans and resulting documents. This joint effort should be ongoing and documented and not based solely on a vote of approval prior to submission of a completed document.

Section 3:G – Additional Elements

Regions and LWDBs may include any additional elements to the local plan that they believe are relevant that do not fit within the framework outlined above. To retain formatting and order of elements, all additional sections should begin with this item number and be placed here at the end of the plan.

One of the strategic priorities of the Central Jersey Partnership for the next 3 program years is to increase public education and awareness of the local workforce system and services. Through working towards establishing a local/regional method of measuring and accessing performance benchmarks, we aim to capture information on our region that can be used to portray the qualitative attributes of our businesses, workforce, job seekers, and community that can be leveraged in telling the narrative of the CJP. We plan to use demographic measurements, such as DEI diversity, equity, and inclusion, to tell our story from a bird's eye view, helping to convey the breadth of services available and our impact on residents and businesses. Our goal is to initiate broader conversation and attract greater engagement through familiarizing residents with the programs and resources offered, as well as testimonials from people they know or businesses they recognize, to break down any misunderstanding or existing stigmas.

This Regional Plan demonstrates Central Jersey Partnership's objective to develop policies, deliver services, and monitor compliance in a coordinated manner. By using this plan for strategy implementation it is anticipated that administrative costs will be reduced among the partners by sharing resources, including staff, facilities, outreach, and recruitment.

The 2022 Draft Central Jersey Partnership WIOA Regional Plan was published on Wednesday, April 5, 2023. The draft was first made public on the CJP Website (<http://www.centraljerseypartners.org>) and subsequently posted to LWDB webpages and distributed by each.

The public comment period remained open through Friday, May 5, 2023. During the 30-day public comment period, no submissions were received by the Central Jersey Partnership or its members.
